MOTORISTS WARNED AS TO PROVISIONS OF NEW ORDINANCE

Prohibits Turning to Travel in Opposite Direction at Designated Corners

NEW ORDINANCE BECOMES EFFECTIVE ON FRIDAY

Drivers Required to Signal Intended Direction of Travel

FOLLOWING the passage and publication Thursday of an ordinance regulating the mode and place of turning vehicles upon the streets of the city, automobile drivers are warned by the police department regarding provisions of the new ordinance as passed by the council.

Special attention is called to section 3 of the ordinance wherein it is stated that "no person shall turn any vehicle around so as to travel in a direction opposite to the original direction of travel upon Main street at the intersections of Front, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets."

The ordinance provides that a fine of not less than one dollar nor more than ten dollars shall be levied upon violators of the provisions of the ordinance.

That traffic friction at the intersection of Fourth and Main streets may be alleviated as much as possible, automobile drivers are required to signal the traffic officer as to the direction of travel intended upon approaching the intersection of the streets. Delay in traffic may be appreciably averted by the practice of signalling the officer, it was said.

The new ordinance which became effective Friday morning is as follows:

"Section 1. Any person operating a motor vehicle or any other vehicle upon the public streets or alleys of the city of La Crosse shall, at the intersection of public streets or a public street with a public alley, keep to the right of the center of such intersection of such highways when turning to the right, and pass to the right of the center of such intersection when turning to the left.

"Section 2. No person shall turn any vehicle around so as to travel in a direction opposite to the original direction of travel upon any public street within the city of La Crosse except only at the intersections of two public streets, and in making such turn such vehicle shall at all times be kept to the right of the intersection of the center lines of such intersecting streets, that is to say, with such center intersection point to the left of the driver of such vehicle.

"Section 3. No person shall turn any vehicle around so as to travel in a direction opposite to the original direction of travel upon Main street, at the intersections of Front, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets.

"Section 4. No vehicle shall pass or attempt to pass or turn out in preparation to pass any other vehicle traveling in the same direction on the same street while either vehicle is within the boundary lines of any intersecting street.

"Section 5. Any person who shall violate any provision of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine of not less than one dollar nor more than ten dollars.

"Section 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication."

FREE TOUR FOR YOUNG FOLKS

A committee of representative Hollanders has just revived a work which was undertaken before the war in the effort to arrange an exchange of international tours for students, both male and female. The object of these journeys is, by making the acquaintance of foreign countries and peoples, to widen the mental view and to open the eyes of those taking part to the necessity for friendly relations among the civilized nations of the world. It is proposed that similar committees in each of the countries engaging in the interchange shall receive the tourists and arrange for visits to places and institutions that would be of interest and value.

The Iceberg Season

Summer is the real season for the iceberg in the North Atlantic. It is said that there are certain conditions which make an iceberg quite invisible. On a cold, starry night the iceberg is the same color as the sky and cannot be seen until a boat is right up on it. In fact an iceberg under these conditions can be heard before it can be seen.

It isn't always politeness that makes a man give his seat to a girl in short skirts.

Peterson's Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y. Dear Sir: I was afflicted with what the doctors said were "ulcers," and up until about five weeks ago I have been treating them for about a year and five months. With all the treatments that were prescribed to me by several doctors I received little benefit, and they kept spreading and gave me much distress and caused me to quit my work. I was induced by a brother-in-law to try Peterson's Ointment, and after I had used two boxes I saw the wonderful results. You can tell suffering ones troubled with ugly, painful and horrid ulcers that your Ointment is a cure for them when everything else fails, as I have tried out everything. ## CHURCH BELL TOO LOUD AND CITIZENS SECURE INJUNCTION

Authorities Go Shopping for New Bell to Avoid Contesting Court Suit

CINCINNATI.—Going bell shopping has its difficulties and its annoyances chief of which is the noise made when the wares are sampled. But bell shopping as the means of averting costly court litigation is all right.

Recently Albert Knippendorf, shoe manufacturer and a dozen other residents of Grandin Road, the ultra-exclusive residence thoroughfare of this city obtained a temporary injunction restraining the Holy Angels' church in that neighborhood from ringing its bells so early in the morning when the residents were at the top of their sleeping form. It was set out in the petition that the vibration from the bell shook the surrounding homes.

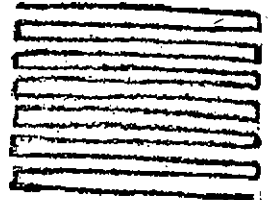

The church authorities rather than contest the suit suggested the replacing of the bell with one of less vociferous tone and the suggestion was agreeable to the complainants. Therefore the bell shopping tour. They went to a bell making foundry and looked over the stock of bells that ranged from mammoth church bells to cow bells.

"This will show you what my clients have had to contend with," said Col. Simon Ross. He struck a 700 pound bell with a sledge hammer.

"This seems a little too gentle," remarked the Rev. Father Eugene Davis, pastor of the church as he tapped a smaller bell with a mallet. "The ringing of bells is a church ceremonial and why have one that can not be heard throughout the parish?" None of the bells was found to be suitable and the foundry company agreed to make two or three bells weighing about one-third as much as the present bell and line them with alloy of copper to deaden the sharpness of the sound. They will be ready in ten days. But until they are installed the injunction remains effective.

SPARK FROM ENGINE STARTS DISASTROUS PAPER MILL FIRE

Half Million Dollar Loss Suffered by Port Edwards Concern

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis.—Fanned by a high wind into a raging blaze that scorched houses within a radius of two blocks and set fire to several, the fire swept through the woodyards of the Nekoosa-Edwards Paper company late Thursday at Port Edwards, south of here, causing damage estimated at more than $500,000.

The fire raged through the late afternoon and night and piles of logs were still burning fiercely early Friday. Sparks from a locomotive owned by the company started the blaze, officials said.

Despite the combined efforts of employees, and the Wisconsin Rapids and Nekoosa fire departments, the fire was beyond control within a few minutes after it was discovered. Due to the high wind and the dryness of the logs the flames swept unchecked through yards consuming huge piles of logs as though they were kindlers.

Houses two blocks away from the fire broke into flames several times and fire-fighters were called to extinguish several small blazes. There were no injuries reported.

More than 120,000,000 worth of logs, ready for the mill, were destroyed, and with the damage to mill property and unfinished logs, the loss will exceed half a million dollars, company officials said. The Nekoosa-Edwards Paper company mill is one of the largest in the country.

Pays to Protect House Wren

The house wren is one of the most sociable and confiding of birds, and on this account they will build their nests in little houses that are built for them no matter how close this is to a human habitation says the American Forestry association, Washington. Furthermore, the wren is one of the most valuable of birds, for it feeds entirely on insects and thus helps to save the trees and the vegetables in the garden from the pests which would eat them. The wren builds its nest of grass or weeds stuffed into any crevice that takes its fancy.

Pioneers in Pencil Industry

The first pencil manufacturer in the United States was William Monroe of Concord, Mass., who, in 1812, invented a process by which he pulverized and mixed the material and fused it in cedar holders. He was very successful in selling his product and continued the business for a year and a half, when he was obliged to give it up on account of the difficulty in obtaining raw materials. Another pioneer, in the industry was Joseph Dixon, who commenced business in 1827.

Famous Hudson River

The entire length of the Hudson river is 302 miles. From Troy to the mouth of the river in New York bay, a distance of 150 miles, the river is tidal, owing to the low grade of its bed, by which the ocean tide is able to back up. It is this lower tidal navigable portion of the Hudson that is of so much importance, and, of course, the water is salt. It is regarded as really an estuary of the sea. Above Albany and Troy the river is a small stream, and to its source the water is fresh.

Two Church Designations

The word "protestant" includes many churches, the Protestant Episcopal and the Methodist Episcopal among them. The word "protestant" came into use at the time of the Reformation both in England and on the continent. It stood for a protest against the Roman Catholic church. The name is not particularly significant at this time when all of the churches are drawing closer together. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Ancient Almanacs

The old almanac, once in common use in parts of England, is a square stick, on the four edges of which are cut notches to represent the days of the week and various symbols to indicate different festivals and holidays. More ancient than old almanacs are the Scandinavian runic calendars, made of wood, or sometimes of horn or bone, and inscribed with runic letters.

When Men Fought in Steel

As a general statement it may be said that armor weighed from thirty pounds, for a suit of chain mail, and fifty for ordinary complete plate, to 100 or more for the heavy tournament equipment. The armor for the horse might weigh another hundred pounds. In spite of its weight, armor, when of good quality and worn in a most important point, over properly constructed, padded undergarments, was surprisingly mobile.

Polar Ice

In the region around the south pole, Sir Ernest Shackleton found various kinds of ice to which he gives interesting names in his new book, "South." Thus one kind he pictures as "young ice," another as "drift pack," another as "drift ice." Heavy hummocked pack and close pack are the roughest in appearance, with ragged little crags covering all the surface.

Modern Greek Language

The modern Greek language is a dialect of the ancient Greek and the literary language of today is a continuation of the main literary dialect of ancient Greece, the Attic, as modified by passing through Byzantine. The modern vernacular is sometimes called Romenic. At the present time there is a tendency among the Greek authors to return more closely to the ancient form of the language.

THIS SUMMER ONE OF HOTTEST ON RECORD; HAS NO SUNSTROKES

This has been one of the hottest summers within the memory of the oldest living inhabitant yet so far as is known, not a single case of sunstroke or heat prostration has been reported in this vicinity.

Why is it?
Dr. Edward Evans ascribes it to the fact that there are so many men out of work this year and the strain and high tension under which everyone was working in past years is now absent.

The year 1915 had one of the hottest summers ever experienced in Chicago and at that time there were over 500 cases of sunstroke alone, and hundreds more of heat prostration. Dr. W. A. Evans, writing in the Chicago Tribune, says that the fact that there have been only 19 cases of sunstroke in Chicago this summer, which has been fully as hot as in 1915, is because of the lack of beer.

Before prohibition went into effect, according to Dr. Evans, workmen were accustomed to filling up on beer during the daytime and this made them more susceptible to the effects of the sun's heat. The majority of cases of sunstroke, he affirms, are those of men whose temperature has been raised by drinking. Now that there is a comparative scarcity of beer and other intoxicants, the number of cases of sunstroke shows a corresponding decrease.

However, a great many people would rather believe that Dr. Edward Evans is right and that the decrease of heat prostrations is due to the unemployment situation.

FOOD FROM AMERICA HAS SAVED EASTERN AND CENTRAL EUROPE FROM BOLSHEVISM DECLARES AGENT OF AMERICAN RELIEF ADMINISTRATION

NEW YORK.—American feeding has saved Central and Eastern Europe from Bolshevism, according to J. H. Wallis, of Dubuque, Ia., representative of the American Relief Administration, who has just returned from a five months' survey of American relief work in Europe.

The Hoover organization, Mr. Wallis said, had been upholding democracy in Europe and through its relief operations had stabilized and strengthened the new democracies resulting from the war, when they were threatened with forces of disintegration, because of hunger.

"Chief officials in some countries told me with perfect frankness," he added, "that the American feeding had been their political salvation and in all countries even the most cautious and guarded officials admitted it was a very material aid. Private citizens were more downright and positive. 'American feeding saved us from Bolshevism,' was their general view."

Mr. Wallis expressed optimism concerning the economic and political future of the nations, declaring that it is "entirely a mistake to suppose that Europe is sinking." He said conditions were improving and order was being restored everywhere.

"In general, the aspect today of Central Europe and the Baltic is one of recovery," he added. "The recovery is, perhaps, not as rapid as it might have been if men and nations had been ideally wise, but it is substantial and promising. Although in some places there are distressing conditions, Europe is rising. There are still some international wrangles, such as Upper Silesia and the Polish-Lithuanian dispute about Vilna; Austria, not yet adjusted to her new place in the world-order, is still suffering business stagnation. But the economic barriers between states are being broken down by commercial treaties the railway systems are getting back to normality."

"My investigation in Central Europe and the Baltic took me into Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Poland, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia. In all of these countries I had the privilege of talking with the principal government officials, including Chancellor Wirth of Germany, Premier Witos of Poland, President Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, President Hainisch of Austria, Finance Minister Hegedues of Hungary and the leading men of the Baltic republics. I also made it a point to get the views of the most prominent bankers and business men of the various countries. Beyond that, I have seen labor leaders, presidents of universities, workmen, peasants and refugees. "Perhaps most Americans do not entirely realize the manifold and ramifying effects—the vitally important effects—of the vast feeding operations of the American Relief Administration. Among these collateral effects may be mentioned the following:

"The spread of Bolshevism in Central Europe and the Baltic, the tendency to political violence, anarchy and chaos, have been effectively checked in a very large measure.

"The sovereign importance of the child has been impressed upon these countries. Effective methods of child-help have been taught. Permanent organizations for child-welfare work are being created. In every country aided by the American Relief Administration a big native organization has been built up to do the work under American supervision. About 100,000 people are included in all these organizations. These people have learned qualities which will be not only valuable to themselves but national assets.

"The comprehensive, impartial distribution of relief to people of all races and creeds has taught tolerance and brotherhood and brought hostile classes and races and creeds together for the common good.

"The child-feeding operation has been a great impetus to the scientific study of child-nutrition, especially in Austria. If America will turn her attention more earnestly and effectively to her own children, making use of the knowledge acquired in Europe, the cost of the whole relief operation will be a trifle compared to the benefits America herself will derive."

To Rid Piano of Moths

When moths have got into a piano the best means of ejecting them is to make up a mixture of turpentine, benzoline and oil of lavender and squirt this inside the instrument by means of a scent spray or any small syringe. Use seven parts of benzoline in one of turpentine, and add a few drops of the lavender—one drop to each ounce will be ample.

GERMANY LOOKS FOR WAR BETWEEN GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE

American Declares Germans Believe Test of Military Strength is Not Far Distant

LONDON.—There are many in Germany who think a "trial of military strength" between Great Britain and France is not far distant if they should cease to co-operate, it is declared by John E. Boodin, professor of philosophy at Carleton college, Minnesota, in a lengthy interview published in the London Times. Professor Boodin has been visiting Germany and while there attended University week at Leipzig, and attended the trials of some of the "war criminals" there.

In his opinion the old spirit of German "kultur" still lives in the educated circles of Germany. He asserts that in conversations he found a general hope that there may be in the near future a rift between Great Britain and France which will enable Germany to deal with France alone.

JUDGES OF INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE TO BE NAMED AT LEAGUE MEETING

GENEVA.—Nominations for the 15 judges of the international court of justice which have been made by most of the national delegations at the Hague court of arbitration, are said to assure plenty of excellent material to choose from when the election is reached toward the end of the program of the second annual session of the league of nations' assembly which opens here Monday.

Final establishment of the world tribunal has been assured by the ratification of the protocol by more than 24 states required to make that act valid and there is every reason to believe, officials say, that the court will be in action before the end of the present year.

Two Americans, Elihu Root and Dr. Roscoe Pound, appear among the judicial candidates submitted. Mr. Root has been nominated by three countries—Italy, Brazil and Bolivia. The presiding justiceship thus may fall to a nation whose government is not represented in the league of nations.

The other nominations present a number of interesting features. Each country may nominate four candidates, but two of these must belong to other nationalities. Great Britain has only made one nomination—that of Viscount Robert Finlay—and this example has been followed by her liegencies.

Few other countries have failed to make use of their full right of nomination. In a number of instances this right has been employed to accentuate the solidarity of various racial or regional groups, as those of Scandinavia, South America and the little Entente of middle Europe.

Thus the Swedes have nominated two of their own countrymen, a Norwegian and Dane; the Norwegians, a Dane and a Swede besides their own two men, and the Danes, a Swede and a Norwegian in addition to Danes. The list of nominations submitted by the Czechoslovak group consists of one Czechoslovakian, one Yugoslavian, one Rumanian and one Greek.

Prior to the establishment of the international court of justice, a number of important political questions will come before the assembly. Foremost looms to Taona-Arica dispute, which Bolivia has requested to have put on the agenda. Chile has given notice that her delegates will move the previous question when this item is reached, their contention being that the matter involved does not fall within the jurisdiction of the league of nations as outlined by the covenant. Chile is said to have taken a very determined stand. A number of the smaller nations, on the other hand, are desirous of having similar controversies adjudicated by league action.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean safe. Burns 94 percent air and 6 percent common kerosene (coal-oil).

The inventor, C. L. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp in 10 days' free trial, or even to give one free to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

chance of appeal from the decision of the council to have their complaints against Yugoslavia and Greece referred to the council of ambassadors instead of to the league. The Vilna and the Aland Island disputes also will come before the session in one form or another. It is not expected that the division of Silesia will come up for discussion and it is safe to assert that Germany will not be admitted until it is too late for her to raise it.

Several of the reports to be submitted, like those of the temporary disarmament commission, the advisory committee on the traffic in opium and the provisional economic and financial commission must necessarily lead to references to the American attitude toward the league and suggestions for future action or inaction in relation to this attitude.

Other reports of the same kind, which will provide the bulk of the business to be transacted, are as follows:

By the council on the conclusions of the committee on amendments to the covenant; by the committee appointed to examine the scope of the treaty registration clause of the covenant; by the international blockade commission; by the advisory committee on communications and transit; by the international conference on the traffic in women and children; by the committee appointed to investigate the workings of the secretariat and the labor office; by the committee on the allocation of expenses and by the council on the proposed international co-ordination of intellectual work.

Four non-permanent members of the council, to serve for another year, are to be elected before the assembly adjourns and this may provide a spirited contest, particularly over the seat held for two years by Belgium. The little comrery of King Albert feels that its part in the great war entitles it to remain in the council so long as questions relating to the treaty of Versailles remain unsettled, while other countries feel that Belgium should now give way to some other nation in order to make the council as widely representative as possible.

Millions of Idle Tonnage

The world-wide decline in business has been a heavy blow to the shipping interests of all the maritime countries, particularly Great Britain, United States and the Scandinavian countries. reason that the calculations are based on the advanced prices.

LONDON CITIZENS PROTEST AGAINST INCREASED TAXES

Demonstrations Mark High Point of Unrest Among the Unemployed

LONDON.—Demonstrations in which many thousands of London's unemployed participated, occurred Thursday night and marked the culminating point of unrest among the idle which has prevailed here during the past fortnight. Several members of the borough council of Poplar, a section of London, were arrested and lodged in Brixton prison for refusing to raise the tax rates in accordance with an order from the London county council, which had taken action to raise funds to care for the destitute. The arrest of the remainder of the council members, some of them women, was expected Friday.

The Woolwich board of guardians was asked by a deputation of a number of unemployed men and women with an additional delegation of eight shillings for each adult. Demand was also made that rents should not be collected from men out of work. These demands were rejected by the board. Some men who had spent Wednesday night in a workhouse in Hackney refused to leave in the morning. They were arrested and later sentenced to a week's imprisonment.

Belief was expressed today that a royal commission would be created for the purpose of conducting an inquiry into the question of taxes and the equalization of rates for the relief of the poor.

U. S. SOLDIERS ON WAY TO THE BATTLE FRONT

given out by the war department as follows:

"Investigators returned about 11:30 tonight. The invaders have not obeyed president's proclamation and there is no apparent intention to do so. It is therefore recommended that the troops now held in readiness be sent to West Virginia without delay."

Blames State Guard

An earlier communication from General Bandholtz said: "It is believed that the withdrawal of the invaders as promised by Keener and Moore, respectively president and vice president of the district miners' union, would have been satisfactorily accomplished but for the tardy sending of trains and particularly but for the ill-advised and ill-timed advance movement of state constabulary on the night of August 27 resulting in bloodshed."

4,000 Soldiers on Way

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Federal troops from four camps numbering approximately 4,000 men, were at noon Friday either enroute or in readiness to move to West Virginia to enforce the decision of the federal government to restore order in the coal fields.

Orders for the movement of troops were issued early in the day by Major General Harbord, assistant chief of staff, on recommendation of Brigadier General Bandholtz, representative of the war department in the disturbed area. A few hours later the war department was advised that the twenty-sixth infantry had left its station at Camp Dix and that the 19th infantry was enroute from Camp Sherman to the coal fields.

Shortly after this movement had gotten under way two companies left Fort Thomas, Ky., and the Fortieth infantry began entraining at Camp Knox, Ky. Another regiment, the 16th, was ready in reserve at Camp Dix to move immediately on receipt of orders. Army officers directing and observing the movement pointed to it as fully justifying the declaration made several days ago by Secretary Weeks that should action by the federal government in West Virginia be decided on, it would be no "child's play." Secretary Weeks Friday was optimistic over the situation expressing the belief that as soon as the federal troops reached the disturbed area the armed bands responsible for the disorders would voluntarily disperse.

Defer War Law Decree

Meanwhile the second stop contemplated by the federal government—the declaration of martial law in five West Virginia counties—was deferred pending arrival of the troops at their destination. It was indicated that presidential proclamation declaring the rule of the military to be supreme, already drafted and signed, would not be issued until sufficient forces had arrived in the five counties to enforce that rule.

Secretary Weeks gave the West Virginia situation his entire attention reaching his office early in the day and leaving it only to attend the regular Friday cabinet meeting at which it was understood the matter was discussed.

Without Information

LOGAN, W. Va.—The situation along Blair mountain was shrouded in mystery Friday morning, Colonel Jackson Arnold, commanding state police and sheriff Don Chafin, of Logan county, and Sheriff Hatfield of McDowell county, who are directing the deputy sheriffs and volunteers along Pine Fork ridge refusing detailed information of events during the past five hours.

Fighting was resumed along the ridge at points between Mill Creek and Crooked Creek shortly before day-break but, according to reports here seemed to be nothing more serious than an exchange of shots between outposts. With sunrise it increased but was confined to that immediate section.

Over on Blair mountain there was comparative quiet, official reports said.

There is much speculation here as to the number of casualties among the defensive forces. Officials have been announced that three men have been killed and one is still missing.

Bandholtz in Command

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—Recommendation that federal troops be sent into the disturbed area of West Virginia having been granted by the war department, Brig.-Gen. Bandholtz, who will be in command, busied himself Friday working out the details of placing the soldiers at strategic points. General Bandholtz opened headquarters in the Chesapeake & Potomac telephone company building, taking an entire floor.

Extra telephones were installed and every facility was provided to keep in direct touch with the disturbed counties and with Washington.

No official information had been received from Boone and Logan counties by the military authorities as to the situation there. Federal military headquarters, it was said, were not worried about the situation at the moment but were concentrating all efforts to get the troops in quickly.

"We are going right in and swamp the disorderly elements," said a high military authority.

According to General Bandholtz, troops from Camp Sherman are expected during the day while those from New Jersey will not arrive until Saturday morning probably.

Wire Communication Cut

There was no authentic information at the general's office during the morning, beyond reports that mines were quiet in the vicinity of the Boone and Logan county lines where the large body of armed men are concentrated, with the avowed intention of marching into Logan county.

Telephone reports from Madison were to the effect that all wire communication to the so-called front has been cut, and that more men are still going through Madison to join those opposing the peace officers at the county line.

D. C. McMillan GETS TROUT WEIGHING 4½ LBS. AT TROUT FALLS

D. C. McMillan, who has a summer cottage at Trout Falls, and who can almost sit on his front porch and make casts into the La Crosse river, finished the 1927 trout season with a "grand and glorious" feeling.

On the last day of the season, Wednesday, August 31, he landed a trout, 22 inches long and weighing four and a half pounds. And Mr. Trout was some battler.

It took Mr. McMillan most of the afternoon to land him. After fishing for some time at the falls, Mr. McMillan got a strike. When partly out of water, the trout managed to get off the hook. The second time he struck he broke the line. The third time, Mr. Trout was hooked for keeps. Mr. McMillan says it is the biggest trout he ever caught.

LA CROSSE DROPS TO THIRD PLACE IN FAIR CONTEST

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—With an attendance of 12,210 on Friday there appeared little prospect that the total attendance at the State fair would reach that of Friday last year, which was 31,520.

Reynolds Bros. Lodi, Wis., took all the first prizes, and the championship and grand champion prizes in the Short Horn cattle class today. E. L. Jones Rockland, and the Anoka Farms, Waukesha, finished in the order named. Other exhibitors included George Moore and Sons, La Crosse, and J. J. McCann, Janesville.

In the Clydesdale horse class the principal prize winners were Gelay Bros., Janesville, E. E. Jones, Rockland, and Walter Houser, Mondovi.

Bulls and Babcock, Evansville, and the Seefelt Farms, Salina, Kas., divided honors in the Chester White hog class. Other exhibitors included Walter Besocke, Delavan, and William Schlobo, Lyons. The standing of the counties entered in the county sweepstakes was announced Friday as follows:

Rock, 6,252 1-2 points; Waukesha, 4,024; La Crosse, 3,353; Walworth, 2,214; Dodge, 1,928; Juneau, 1,907; Milwaukee, 1,321; Green, 1,111; Jefferson, 1,044; Jackson, 874.

The outcome of the county sweepstakes will be announced by C. P. Norford, commissioner of agriculture, Saturday.

AWAIT PUBLICATION OF DE VALERA NOTE TO BRITISH PREMIER

DUBLIN.—By The Associated Press.—Sinn Féin Ireland Friday awaited publication of the text of the note sent to Prime Minister Lloyd George Thursday by Eamon De Valera and his colleagues in the Irish republican government. Mr. Lloyd George's spending a brief vacation in Scotland and it was announced that nothing relative to the Sinn Féin reply to the premier's note relative to the settlement of the Irish question would be given out here until it was known that it was in Mr. Lloyd George's hands.

It was believed, however, that the Sinn Féin leaders did not discuss with the premier any of the points of his latest note with the exception of the final clause in which further negotiations were suggested.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD

By Agnes Ayres.

THE other day, looking through my keepsakes, I came across a letter. It was faded and illegible, having been written in pencil on a scrap of school paper. It said, with commendable directness: "Dear Agnes: I love you. Do you love me? I wrote another letter to you but I lost it before I could give it to you. I hope sister don't find it."

It was my very first love letter. My what a flood of recollections it revived. True, I'm not in the sore and yellow leaf as yet, and I am still unmarried, so these memories ought not to be so very potent, but just the same, so much has happened in the intervening years, that the recollections they evoke are very poignant and just a little sad.

Tommy First Choice.

Poor little Tommy. He was a lovely boy and he had the sweetest brown eyes. I thought them and their owner adorable and was quite mad about him. Of course, some of my admiration may have been engendered by the fact that his dad had a fine sleigh and a spanking team and I used to love to ride with them over the snowy roads. My girl chum also loved Tommy with a deep devotion and while we never became hated rivals, she had the field to herself henceforth. Did she profit by the opportunity? Frankly I don't know. I was probably twelve years' old then and I've lost track of Tommy and his other sweetheart.

I suppose I was very tickle, for a little later, having moved to Chicago, I met Albert at a masquerade. He was attending a military academy and he had a wonderful uniform, with lots of brass buttons and gold braid. My mother remarked unkindly, as I then believed, that it was the buttons and braid which caught my girlish fancy, but I stoutly denied it and affirmed that it was because of his lovely blue eyes that my heart was simply breaking with an overwhelming love for him. Remember that only a few short months before I had been sick with love over brown eyes. 'Twas ever thus. I bear no briefs for the constancy of youthful affections of either boy or girl. The exceptions merely prove the rule—and some people never gain constancy!

Born in Southern Illinois.

In the beginning, I was born in Carbondale, Ill., and mother tells me that I was a very pretty baby. I can't affirm or deny that. I know that later I was a veritable duckling, all arms and legs. However, mother also declares that the first week one hundred and sixty people came to look at me and admire my good points, so I assume that I must have been quite attractive at that stage of my existence.

Carbondale is a college town, being the home of the State Normal University. My home, as I first recall it was a little brown cottage in a lovely garden that was covered with roses, which climbed over the house itself and made it a veritable bower of blooms. That is why, I presume, I still love roses and devote what spare moments I have to cultivating them in my Hollywood home. I adored flowers from childhood. To me they were the sweetest expressions of the Creator—and today they seem to hold within their fragrant petals all the secrets of beauty and life. Roses, roses! I hope that I shall always be where I can scent their fragrance and caress them; flowers of constancy, fading alas when their day is done—as we must one time fade.

We moved to a large farm where I spent happy years in school and play. We moved to Chicago where I completed my education. But I looked back many times with longing upon those days of freedom in the open on the dear old farm. I suppose when I grow old I'll retire to a farm. I think I should like to. There is something so substantial about a farm. The kindly aspect of the cattle, the friendly horses who rub velvet noses against your cheek, the faithful dogs and the busy birds who build their nests year in and year out and sing ever for the joy of living in the big trees that scrape their boughs against your attic window at night. I used to love it all.

Then Came Albert.

Chicago changed things a lot. I was growing up—and I began to take a greater interest in dancing. I went to dancing school indeed, and it was there that I met Albert and admired his brass buttons so mightily. He was a dear boy—so have they all been, these dear, fine lads that I knew in the days of my teens. One wonders what becomes of them all—they pass by and tarry for a while; one loves them devotedly and dreams wonderful dreams again with the slow or swift moving procession of life.

Passersby! So much of each life is concerned with those who play but a small part in it. For a time they hold the center of the stage and we listen to their lines; then they disappear in the wing or the curtain falls upon them and they are memories—only memories.

Visited Old Essanay.

It was during a vacation from school that I first visited a motion picture studio. It was the old Essanay, in Chicago, where many screen actresses of the present day got their start. My mother had often been advised by friends to have me try for picture work, and so had I. By the way, I think that this is one of the chief reasons why so many girls flock to the studios with ambitions fired to succeed in the movies—they are told by their relative or friends or sweethearts that they are beautiful and would surely make good in pictures. Probably these compliments are well-meant, but they are the most part ill-advised. For, only one in a hundred good-looking girls screen well and would hence be looked upon favorably by a casting director. The other ninety-nine are doomed to disappointment.

As it happened, neither my mother nor myself paid over, or very much attention to the urgings of others that I attempt to break into motion pictures. I might never have visited a studio, had it not been for the fact that my brother was interested in the mechanical side of picture-making and secured a position at the Essanay plant. He often invited us out to visit the place, as cinema studios in those days were as much curiosities as a one-horse shay on Fifth Avenue today.

The Opportunity Arrives.

One day, while I was on a vacation bound to bring it in somehow. Even myself!

Trys Free-Lancing.

After finishing with the O. Henry series, I decided to try free-lancing a while and, since my first engagement called for Hollywood, I left New York for the West. One of the chief things I remember about that trip was that some kind (?) friend persuaded me to leave "Shooks" behind, and I've regretted it ever since. "Shooks" was my wonderful pet bulldog and my chief hobby. I also recall that my first impression of California was that the streets were simply jammed solid from curb to curb with automobiles. I never had seen so many cars in my life, not even on Fifth Avenue, New York.

In the course of my free-lancing, I did several pictures, among them, Marshall Neilan's "Go and Get It," in which Bull Montana played the role of an ape and frightened me almost to death. Finally I came to the Lasky studio to play a part in the Paramount picture, "Held by the Enemy," and have been there ever since.

The "Villainess."

I signed with Paramount when Cecil B. DeMille offered me the lead in "Forbidden Fruit." That was the most wonderful part I have ever had and I enjoyed every minute of it. After that I played in "The Love Special" opposite Wallace Reid, and then came the all-star production of "The Affairs of Anatol," in which I was again under Mr. DeMille's direction. In "Anatol" I felt that my screen experience was at last complete, for my role was that of a "heavy"—a villainess, if you could call her that. I had played ingenues and straight dramatic heroines, but this was my first "bad woman." However, "Annie Elliott"—the name of the character I portrayed—was more weak than wicked, though her weakness was of a not-nice kind. I liked "Anatol," but I don't like playing lady villains, and I hope they don't ask me to do another one.

Big Chance Comes.

Later came my first really big opportunity—a chance to play the feminine lead in Vitagraph's picturization of the O. Henry stories. I had always admired greatly the works of O. Henry. Even before I ever visited New York, his tales of Bagdad-on-the-Subway, with his always gentle defense of the underdog, his quaint humor and slang, and his surprising climaxes, had always appealed to me, and interpreting his heroines was one of the pleasantest experiences of my screen career. We did over a score of these stories, and I was ever happy with the company.

It was at that time that I first earned the sobriquet of "the O. Henry girl," first dashed off on the typewriter by some enterprising publicity man. The name has stuck to me ever since, and practically every subsequent cinema historian has seemed to feel duty

ANSWERS TO MOVIE-FANS

Dear Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle—

The other night I went to the theater expecting to see you in one of the short comedies of the sort we have all come to love you in. I was surprised and more than pleased to find that the picture (it was Paramount's "The Round Up") was a long feature. We had never had enough of you in the two reel comedies. I hope you like the long pictures better than the short ones, as I do, and will continue to make them. Which do you like best?

Your sincere admirer,
Ruby.

Dear Ruby—

I have been doing slapstick comedies so long that I have received a good many letters like yours asking about the change to legitimate comedy.

In a way I like both forms. I should be ungrateful if I did not thank my old style of picture for whatever success I have gained but there are several reasons for preferring my new pictures. The feature-picture is not so much hard work, for one thing. In a two-reel slapstick comedy all the humor is in the action, and every action must be obviously funny. You can't be sure a thing is really funny till you see it on the screen, but it is a continuous effort to think up a succession of things that seem amusing. Generally the gags that seemed funniest in the making are the ones that appear the saddest on the screen and that have to be done all over again.

In a legitimate feature the scenario is pretty well figured out in advance. You know what you are going to do, and you don't have to think up new acts from moment to moment. The humor depends on many things, on the situations and the subtitles included, while in the gag comedy action is the only means to make your audience laugh.

I am glad you liked "The Round Up."

Roscoe Arbuckle.

Essay on Geese
The following composition on geese was written, according to Capper's Weekly, by a schoolboy in St. Louis: "Geese is a heavy-set bird with a head on one side and a tail on the other. His feet is so far back on his running gear that they nearly miss his body. Some geese is gardeners and has a curl in his tail. Gardeners don't lay or set. They just eat, loaf and go swimming. If I had to be a geese, I would rather be a gander. Geese do not give milk, but give eggs, but for me, give me liberty or give me death."

The Reason
Little Joe was at grandmother's house for dinner. Although fried chicken and many other miltary good things were on the table, Joe did not care to eat much. Then grandmother began to coax him. One thing after another she brought to his notice. Finally she said: "Here's my home-made sugar cookies. Aren't you going to try some of them, dear?" Little Joe attempted a smile. "That's what is the matter," he explained. "I tried too many of them before dinner, grandma."—Indianapolis News.

First Clockmaker Unknown
It is uncertain when the first clock was constructed. Its invention is claimed by many nations. There is a tradition that the first clock was invented by the Chinese in the year 2000 B. C., and another that it was invented in Germany in the eleventh century. The first clock of which we have any description is the one which was set in the tower of the palace of Charles V. of France in 1370 by a man named Henry De-Vick.

LANDIS DECISION OPENS THE WAY TO WORK FOR 50,000

Hundred Millions Worth of Building to be Started Within Near Future

CHICAGO, Ill.—The way was open here Friday for the employment of 50,000 men in the building industry and the start of $100,000,000 worth of building contracts. The path will be finished Saturday it is expected when Judge K. M. Landis, arbiter in the building trades controversy, announces his decision.

An oral agreement between builders and labor chieftains removes all restrictions except union rules establishing hours and wages, leaving workers free to work where they please without permits or payment of fees. The same agreement provides that contractors not members of organized groups may enter competition without fear of combinations.

This agreement is expected to greatly simplify the process of reaching a speedy decision on wages and hours of work.

CLUBHOUSE DRAWING WAS LEGAL DECLARE ELKS IN MILWAUKEE

Action by Morgan to Have Property Confiscated Will be Futile is Claim

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Milwaukee Elks officials said Friday that in their opinion the gift of the Milwaukee Elks' clubhouse after a drawing last year was entirely legal and that no proceedings started by the attorney general, if any are contemplated, would succeed in having the property confiscated.

"The tickets sold to the Milwaukee Elks Carnival and round-up admitted the purchasers to all entertainments, given by the Elks during the week of the carnival," said Attorney Clarence Jocky, excited ruler. "This would amount to about ten cents admission for each performance."

"The tickets also stated at one of the performances a free drawing would take place and that the holder of the number drawn would receive as a gift a deed to the clubhouse. This was carried out."

MINNESOTA AT WORK ON BIG PROGRAM OF ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Neighbor State Has Over Twenty-six Million Available this Year for Highways

BABCOCK PLAN OF ROAD BUILDING ADOPTED AT ELECTION IN 1920

Seven Thousand Miles of Highway Transferred to the State

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Minnesota this year is launching an enlarged public highway development program under the Babcock plan, formulated by Charles M. Babcock, state commissioner of highways, and adopted under an amendment to the state constitution by a vote of 526,936 to 139,603.

Federal aid forthcoming on the former basis, Minnesota will have available this year approximately $26,333,000 for state trunk and county local road improvements. Commissioner Babcock has just returned from Washington where he fought for federal highway legislation for farm-to-market roads as provided in the Minnesota program. The 1921 highway fund estimate is exclusive of paving and other street improvements being made by cities and towns through local expenditures.

Previous to the adoption of the Babcock plan, all public highway maintenance and improvements in Minnesota were made by county and city or town authorities. The Minnesota highway department acted largely in an advisory capacity, especially on federal and state aid projects. Highway funds represented the federal aid appropriation of $2,840,000 a year, and the proceeds of a 1-mill tax apportionment in aid to counties and on local levies, and last year made a grand total of about $15,000,000.

The Babcock plan, adopted by constitutional amendment, transfers to the state about 7,000 miles of arterial or trunk highways for future maintenance and improvement. It provides that an enormous tax may be levied, in lieu of other taxes, on motor vehicles and that the proceeds, together with any federal funds apportioned, shall be used for the improvement of the trunk highway system.

Trunk highways listed in the constitutional amendment extend into every section of the state, through the important cities and towns and the regions making Minnesota known as a state of ten thousand lakes.

Adoption of the constitutional amendment followed a vigorous campaign directed by a semi-public corporation which had branches in every community in the state and raised for its support approximately $100,000 in contributions. Minnesota newspapers were given the lion's share of credit for the success of the campaign and continue to co-operate with the highway department toward maintaining public interest in good roads now that the new plan is being launched.

The amendment became effective January 1, 1921, but because of many administrative problems presented the legislature did not provide the department machinery until April 25. After extensive investigation and study, the one-man system of highway administration was adopted in preference to the commission or board plan. Highway statutes were completely reorganized.

A schedule of motor vehicle taxes was worked out, owners paying in lieu of other taxes, and licenses, except wheelbarrow levies in some cities, 2 per cent annually on the basis of the factory price listed, with depreciation allowances of 25 per cent after 3 years and 50 per cent after five years, and tax minimums of $12 on pleasure cars and $15 on trucks. Nearly $8,000,000 this year is expected under the schedule given.

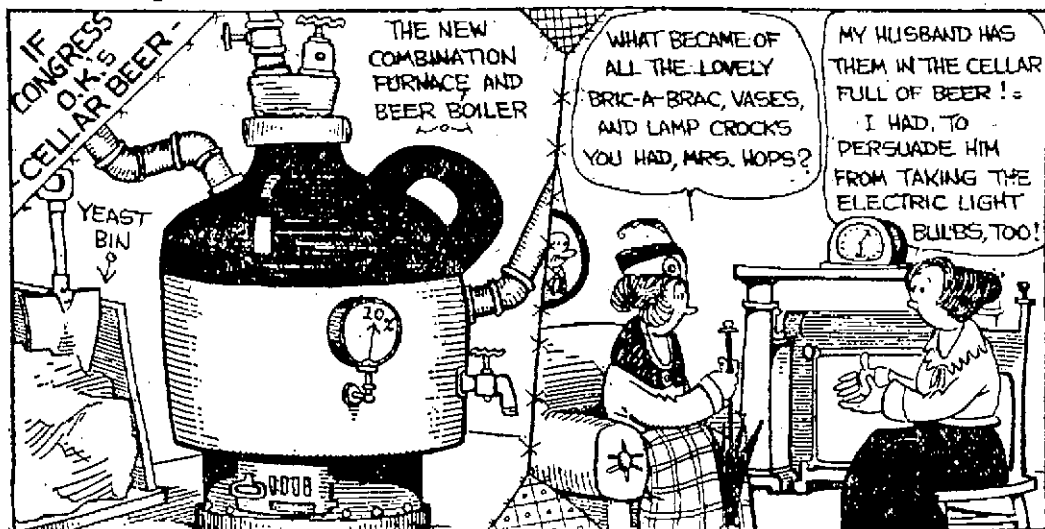

In the first three months of road building under the new plan, the following was accomplished:

About 6,200 of the 7,000 miles of trunk routes temporarily designed and taken over by the state for maintenance.

An "army" of 1,126 patrolmen covering the system to smooth temporary routes until permanent improvements can be extended.

Another big maintenance force, equipped with 150 trucks and 50 tractors—surplus war equipment rebuilt

CHICAGO AT WORK ON PARKWAY OUT IN LAKE MICHIGAN

Five Mile Link to Connect Down-town Lake Front Improvement With Park

CHICAGO, Ill.—Blocked from the lake along more than half its south side, Chicago has started work to jump the intervening railroad tracks by building a five mile parkway out in the lake.

This is to run from Twelfth street to Fifty-fifth street, connecting downtown lake front improvement with Jackson park, and adding the missing link of a 40 mile drive running along or within a stone's throw of Lake Michigan.

A start is being made this summer on the initial fill-in on the present shore line and on a necessary breakwater. It is hoped to complete the first part of the shore before the year runs out. This will eventually add a strip of land about 600 feet wide and five miles long beyond the railroad tracks. The made land will be converted into a park.

The much larger task of construction of a long narrow park in the water of the lake may be started next spring. It will be built about 1,800 feet from the present shore line. Its east side will give Chicagoans the uninterrupted view of the lake on the south that they have long wished for. Its side toward the city will enclose a long lagoon furnishing an admirable course for regattas. It will be 600 feet wide.

At intervals along the outer shore line bathing beaches will be built, with the purest water obtainable, ever free from any shore wash.

The cost of the entire project is estimated at around $40,000,000. Work is being started under an initial $8,000,000 bond issue already voted.

The undertaking is part of the Chicago plan, drawn up in 1908 and promoted since then by the Chicago plan commission, which is supported by municipal appropriation.

The opportunity Lake Michigan has given Chicago to grow in beauty is appreciated more this year than ever before. At the time of the World's fair here in 1893, the lake came right up to the railroad tracks running across the downtown face of the city. Since then the waters have been pushed back there by filling in under a great public park has been created downtown, named Grant park, after one of Illinois' most noted sons.

A miniature bluff of made land gives the foundation and setting for the $4,000,000 field museum building, opened this spring on one corner of this park. The grounds around the building, where not long ago the waves rolled, are 21 feet and the floor of the museum nearly 50 feet above the lake.

'Twas the Room Went Upstairs
Teddy had returned from the city and was describing a large department store he had visited. He seemed greatly impressed by the height of the building and the number of floors. One of his little playmates finally inquired: "Did you go away, 'way upstairs?" "No," said Teddy. "We just went into the tiniest, tiniest little room and stood still and the little room went upstairs."

DOWN IN MISSISSIPPI

for road work—shaping up highways for patrolmen where necessary.

Office and field forces increased from a small number to nearly 3,000 employees, exclusive of hundreds on contract work. Administration expense held to less than 7 per cent of total expenditure.

Approximately $8,000,000 of new construction for 1921 completion in about 75 scattered sections placed under contract at prices from 15 to 50 per cent below 1920 levels charged counties.

And Tunkins says he hopes that all people will never agree entirely in their opinions. Something serious would happen if by accident the world made the same mistake unanimously.

Irvin S. Cobb, the humorous lecturer, on a recent southern tour stopped for dinner at a tiny railway restaurant in a Mississippi village.

"Well, uncle, what's the bill-of-fare?" he asked the aged colored man who came from the kitchen to look after him.

"De bill-o'-fare," said the old man, "am ham, eggs, corn bread and coffee."

"Then I'll have ham, eggs, corn bread and coffee, uncle," said Mr. Cobb.

The old waiter bowed and shuffled out. But a moment later he put his head through the doorway again.

"Boss," he said, "how 'ye gwine to have dem eggs—blind or lookin' at 'em?"—Detroit Free Press.

DESOLATION AT KIEL
SILENT REMINDER OF
DEFEAT OF GERMANY

Harbor, Once the Best in all Europe, Dismantled of War Equipment

HAS NAVY FORCE OF 1,000 INSTEAD OF FORMER 50,000

Forts Reduced to Piles of Crumbled Concrete and Twisted Steel

KIEL — German-Americans who frequent the lobbies of hotels in Berlin can often be heard remarking that Germany has won the war.

If they were to visit Kiel and other German naval bases they would probably get a decidedly different impression. Nothing could be more complete than the desolation which hovers over Kiel harbor, formerly the pet harbor of the German navy and probably the best haven in all Europe.

The great shipyards which created most of the craft for the German navy are silent. Rusty sheds mark the scene of former activity. Idle, deserted docks stand as sad reminders of days when Kiel was the point to which all German eyes, and in fact, all the eyes of Europe were directed.

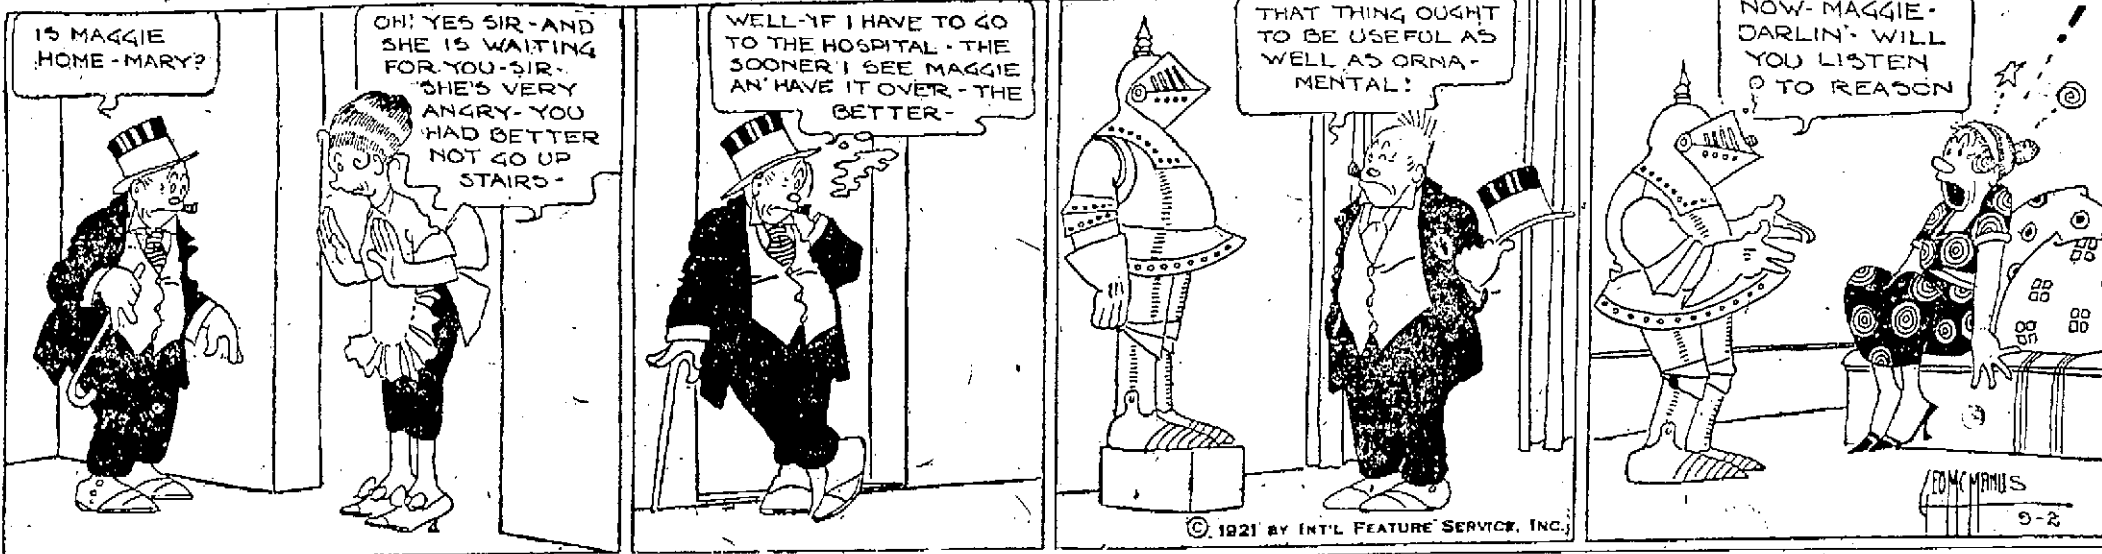

All machinery which the allied commissions regarded as useful for war purposes has been dismantled. Floating docks, cranes and other expensive equipment have been moved away to recompense Germany's enemies for the damage done by Admiral von Tirpitz's submarines.

In normal times, Kiel had 50,000 naval officers, sailors and employees in the harbor all the time. Now the naval personnel is less than 1,000. The city which formerly had a population of 250,000 has lost all of its great government payroll and one-fifth of its population.

Fort Falkenstein and the other batteries which covered the Baltic entrance to the Kaiser William canal have been reduced to piles of crumbled concrete and twisted steel. Their great guns have been saved into his and pitched into scrap heaps.

The naval academy is closed. An empire without a navy has no use for more naval officers. The attendance at the university has dwindled. The castle of Prince Henry, overlooking the naval harbor, has been taken over by the workmen for a club, and there are no warships in the magnificent waterway where the former Emperor William used to review his navy with pomp.

It was here that the flower of the German navy lay, safe behind torpedo nets, during most of the war. At present there are only two antique cruisers lying at the imperial naval docks. They were so far out of date that the English and French didn't think it was necessary to scrap them, and hesitated to offer such craft to any of the nations which had helped win the war.

Small commercial shipyards are operating and the commercial harbor still has a little business.

The Kiel canal is still quite active. But Kiel derives little benefit from the business passing through the canal and cannot receive materially until exchange conditions become such that it can again buy timber from the Scandinavian countries and resume its importance as a lumber depot for Central Europe.

WORK HELPS TO HEALTH

After six years of experiment and observation, it has been conclusively proven that occupational therapy in the case of convalescent women is of great value. The Burke Foundation is an institution at White Plains, N. Y., which undertakes to help women back to health after they have been discharged from the hospitals in the city of New York. Persons discharged from hospitals and similar institutions are rarely in a position to care for themselves, but if they are allowed to lounge around in idleness their complete recovery is often prolonged - because they dwell too much on their condition. Transferred to this place they are compelled to perform some work from the very beginning. The supervisor is a woman and she endeavors to ascertain at the start what work that would be acceptable to the patient. Almost invariably they become interested after a while and do good and profitable service. Some are put to work on the upkeep of the linen and furnishings of the institution, kitchen work, care of the lawn and garden, making of surgical supplies, making paper dolls, wax goods, rugs, loom products, arranging and costuming shows for the entertainment of the inmates, order and various appointed leaderships. Advanced workers whose product is salable are paid for their work. Women coming into the place often resent having to work when they are of the opinion that they are not able, but as a matter of fact, 30 per cent. of the inmates are at all times in some prescribed occupation.

Expensive Business

A red-headed boy applied for a job in a butcher-shop. "How much will you give me?" "Three dollars a week; but what can you do to make yourself useful around a butcher-shop?" "Anything." "Well, he specific. Can you dress a chicken?" "Not on three dollars a week," said the boy. — O. E. R. Bulletin.

A CROWDED ORCHARD

Professor L. C. Corbett, of the United States Department of Agriculture, has recently been abroad and says he found in England a specimen of intensive fruit culture, the like of which he has never encountered before. Apple trees are planted in rows fourteen feet apart. Between these are plum trees flanked by gooseberries and currant bushes. The growth is so dense that the work of cultivation must be done by hand and spraying is done by the installation of a permanent piping system. The company which owns this farm maintains a preserving plant for making jam when the fresh fruit cannot be profitably disposed of.

TITLEHOLDERS FIND NO COMPETITION IN PLOWMAN'S CLASSIC

Tractor and Foot Champions Unopposed in Tests at Aurora for World's Title

AURORA, Ill.—Nobody ventured to oppose the champion tractor plowman Thursday in the forty-third annual Wheatland plowing match at Plainfield, Ill., perhaps because of the tradition attached to a name.

The tractor champion, Albert Stark, is a son of Cyrus Stark, many times champion in the days when the horse drawn plow was the only blade used in turning a furrow. In any event, when Albert wheeled his machine up to the starting mark to defend against the world the tide he won last year, not a person offered to enter the lists.

When it finally appeared that he was to go unchallenged, Albert drove his cumbersome looking machine across the field, cutting two straight furrows of even depth as far as the eye could see. His plow was one they call a "two bottom." It has two blades.

Boardman Has No Opponent Just as Stark went unchallenged in the tractor contest, so did Frank Boardman of Wheatland in the horse drawn event. The classes in which these two men were entered are called the post-graduate, because an entry must have twice won a plowing contest before he can enter the master's tourney.

In six other tractor and horse drawn contests fifteen men and boys competed. Most of the entries were in the tractor contests, because tractors are used most these days.

Generations ago the farm classic was inaugurated as a contest between plowmen who walked behind the plow. As improvements in farm equipment came the contest developed into matches between plowmen who rode their plows. Now the derby is a contest of machines, man controlled.

Thursday's match was held on the farms of John Wolf and Reuben Heister. More than 12,000 persons were present. Automobiles were parked over a field of seven acres and a half mile down a road.

CUT PAPER PRICES NEW YORK.—The International Paper company announced Thursday a cut in the price of standard news print paper from 4¢ to 3¢ at the mill for the quarter beginning October 1.

The company denied reports that it was a participant in a conference at Albany regarding the paper mill labor situation.

"We have eight mills going and are having nothing to do with the unions directly or indirectly," an official declared.

RE-ROUTE MILWAUKEE CARS MADISON, Wis.—Street car lines of Milwaukee are ordered re-routed, in an order of the railroad commission.

The order affects the Wells-Downer, State street, Third street, West street, Walnut street and National avenue lines. It directs that the changes are to be made within 90 days, and in case of the Wells-Downer line within 60 days.

Hot Water's Social Status A New York city company has compiled some interesting facts about hot water. According to this report "hot water" is water at 140 degrees Fahrenheit. The average bath requires fifteen gallons of hot water, the ordinary laundry tub ten gallons, the ordinary household one gallon. The average family paying a rental of $50 or less per month uses 50 gallons of hot water per day; when the rental is from $50 to $75 per month the water consumption is 60 gallons a day; a rental of $100 to $150 a month carries with it hot water habits averaging 75 gallons a day; and those who pay more than $150 are accustomed to use more than 100 gallons in a day.

Plenty of Beaver for Furs The government forest rangers report a great number of beavers this year and the indications are that there will be plenty of skins for fur unless the laws which now protect the animals are greatly relaxed. Two years ago in the Ochotopa Forest, in Colorado, there were two hundred beavers, estimating four or five to a house, which is a conservative estimate. This year there are 12,000 animals. Beavers have complete protection in twenty-five states and have become so numerous that they are a nuisance in some sections.

What Average Man Lacks The ignorance of the place we live in is inexcusable; we are taught to read maps, and have a knowledge of the positions and contours of the lands of this globe; but not the plans of our cities and places we live in.

Halsey Ricardo.

Majestic—Ralph Ince in "The Highest Law"; Pollard comedy, "Big Game"; vaudeville, Messenger Trio and Worth and Willing; also Majestic orchestra.

Strand—Clara Kimball Young in "Straight From Paris"; comedy, "Three Good Pals"; Riviera orchestra.

Casino—All-star cast in "The Devil's Angel"; comedy, "A Dollar's Worth"; vaudeville, Clara Kimball Young in "Straight From Paris"; Fox News.

A GREAT IMPERSONATION

In "The Highest Law" the Selznick Picture now being shown at the Majestic theater, Ralph Ince wins new laurels for himself as a sterling character actor. His own personality is entirely hidden in his genuinely realistic portrayal of Abraham Lincoln, around whom the story is written.

The actor who seeks to impersonate the great abolitionist takes upon him a severe task, for there is no face so well known throughout the land as the wonderfully beautiful homely features, one reproduction of which at least, is found in every home. And Ralph Ince has in his latest picture not only accomplished the mechanical task of representing the features faithfully, but he has to a marvelous degree expressed the kindly heart and quizzical humor so absolutely essential for this impersonation.

Two splendid Orpheum Vaudeville acts are on the same program.

AT THE RIVOLI

Another great contribution to the art of the silent drama has been made by Pola Negri, the European star, in her characterization of Carmen in "Gypsy Blood," the first National attraction which is now showing at the Rivoli.

Ernst Lubitsch, who directed Pola Negri in "Passion," which was a sensational success in America, also directed "Gypsy Blood," and shares honors with the star in this latest masterpiece of the screen.

Harry Liedtke has the role of Don Jose Navarro, the Spanish dragon who falls a victim to the smiles and wiles of the tantalizing Carmen. It was Liedtke who had the role of Armando de Felix in "Passion," opposite Pola Negri.

The acting, direction and photography of this production is marvelous and sets a high standard for many American film makers to shoot at.

"HOME STUFF" IN FILMS AND MUSICAL SHOW AT RIVIERA TODAY, SATURDAY

It's a "home stuff" program at the Riviera today and Saturday. The feature picture is the Metro Classic.

"Home Stuff," starring Viola Dana, and the Jubilee Girls will present their latest musical comedy offering, "The Onalaska High School." Rudolph Winter has new dance steps that he will present in a specialty offering. In the song numbers Connie Hipp and girls will give, "Stamboula"; Marie Pfeil and girls, "Jabber Wokey Town"; Bonnie Benedict and girls, "Bright Eyes"; Betty Martin in a single number, "If You Could Care For Me"; and the Golden Harmony Four in snappy, up-to-the-minute quartet specialties. The comedy picture is "Three Good Pals." The Riviera orchestra, Chester Wright conductor, offers an excellent program of carefully selected musical numbers that interpret both the feature picture and the musical comedy.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG—STRAND

Motion-picture fans have lately been victimized by one announcement after another that a forthcoming production was the "most lavish" ever made. It seems to be forgotten that extravagance in itself is no credit to a photograph, unless the luxury of scene and setting serves to heighten the action of the picture as a whole. That this point has been realized by the Equity Pictures Corporation is convincingly shown in their latest Clara Kimball Young photodrama "Straight From Paris," written by the celebrated Sada Cowan, who won her laurels as the writer of "Hunch." Miss Young's former starring medium. Evidently the producers felt that in filming a picture based on the sparkling romance of society life, a typical French surrounding was necessary to heighten the realism of the action. That is why, in "Straight From Paris," at the Strand today and Saturday the spectator not only enjoys a delicious love-story that includes old aristocracy in its intrigue, but the smartest creations of French fashion in an abundance and richness that is enchanting. A session at this artistic masterpiece of screen production proves once more that Clara Kimball Young is an artist in every sense and a supreme master in the skill of adornment.

New York Wallops Senators Twice, 6 to 3 and 8 to 1, While Indians Lose

BROWNS BUNCH HITS; DEFEAT CHISOX, 5 TO 0

Rommel Shades Jones as Macks Beat Red Sox, 4 to 2

NEW YORK.—The New York Yankees regained the lead in the American league race on Thursday by defeating Washington twice, 6 to 3 and 8 to 1. Washington now has lost seven straight games.

In the first game Shewkey was effective in nearly every inning, while New York bunched its hits on Morgan. Meusel hit his seventeenth home run of the season with Ruth on base.

In the second game Harper started his first game since May, when he had his left hand split by a pitched ball, and performed brilliantly. New York won off Johnson in the fourth inning, hitting five successive singles before a man was out. Scores:

First game: Washington.....$15 000 000-3 New York.....202 002 000-6 Batteries:—Morgan and Gharrett; Shewkey and Hoffman.

Second game: Washington.....000 100 000-1 New York.....000 300 14-8 Batteries:—Johnson and Pichnick; Harper and Deverner.

CHICAGO.—St. Louis bunched hits behind loose playing on the part of Chicago and shut out the locals, 5 to 0, on Thursday. Score: St. Louis.....000 020 210-5 Chicago.....000 000 000-0 Batteries:—Van Gilder and Severid; Hodge and Schalk.

Macks, 4; Red Sox, 2

BOSTON.—Philadelphia took the first game of the series from Boston, 4 to 2, on Thursday. Rommel had slightly the better of Jones and had splendid support. Score: Philadelphia.....002 001 010-4 Boston.....000 200 000-2 Batteries:—Rommel and Perkins; Jones and Walters.

Tigers, 7; Indians, 6

DETROIT.—Detroit hit opportunely on Thursday and defeated Cleveland, 7 to 6, in twelve innings. Coreleskie and Oldham were hit freely early in the game, causing their retirement. Score: Cleveland.....002 200 000 010-6 Detroit.....003 010 010 011-7 Batteries:—Coreleskie, Caldwell and O'Neill; Oldham, Middleton and Woodall, Bassler.

Flaws Picked Out

After a careful survey of the contender—or champion, as Jimmy Dunn, his manager, would have us call him—we have no criticism to make of his condition, but there are a few things lacking that may make it rough going for the Columbus lad. Downey is a wide open mauler, and he must be content with a left-hander. He should have been coached for straight punching against a side-wind, but Dunn seems to have overlooked this little matter, unless his protégé was hiding a few things Thursday.

Then Downey has a bad nose, the result of his recent brush with the champion at Cleveland. While the cut apparently has healed, it looks like a mighty tender spot and we believe we will not go amiss by stating that Dunn will make that one of his first targets. Once he gets that open, and the crimson begins to flow, it will be an added handicap, despite Dunn's assertion that a little blood does not interfere with a boxer in the ring or hurt his chances. We have a different idea. It does interfere.

Bryan seems to have another weakness and that is his left hand. He doesn't use it enough, and when he does, it seems to lack strength. This may be offset by his right mitt, which has some tremendous power behind it and once it hits the spot the referee must start to count. We'll say this lad from Ohio can sock with that right.

After watching this fellow, we can't count him out of the fight as some of the local scribes would have him. He is confident he will repeat the dose handed Wilson at Cleveland. He refused to indicate when it would happen, but it will happen unless Wilson holds his hands high and guards against that right cross which carries a mile's kick with it.

ONLY THREE BOATS REPORT FOR TRIALS IN REGATTA RACE

Pick Team to Defend Harmsworth Trophy Races Scheduled to Begin Saturday

DETROIT, Mich.—Elimination trials scheduled for Thursday and Friday and for the selection of three American speedboats to represent the United States in the Harmsworth trophy races, beginning Saturday, were abandoned Thursday afternoon when only three hydroplanes reported for the trials.

The Defending Team
The trio of speedsters that will defend the British international (Harmsworth) trophy against the challenger, Maple Leaf VIII, are Miss America II, of the Detroit Yacht club; Miss America I, representing the Detroit Powerboat association, and Miss Chicago of the Chicago Yacht club.

To retain the trophy in the United States, the American team must win two forty-knot heats. Should one heat go to one of the Detroit boats and another to the Chicago entry, the trophy goes to the Motor Boat Club of America.

Trophy Held By Wood

For the last year it has been in the possession of the Detroit Yacht club home club of Garfield A. Wood, who won the trophy at Cowes, England, in August of last year, with Miss America I.

Downey Must Kayo Wilson To Claim Title—Rickard

NEW YORK.—The championship belt held by Johnny Wilson, middleweight, will not change hands in his bout next Monday with Bryan Downey of Columbus, title claimant, unless Downey knocks him out. Promoter Rickard, announced Friday. The same ruling applies in the case of Johnny Buff, American flyweight champion who meets Indian Russell of Harrisburg, Pa.

Rickard pointed out that the belts had been won in fifteen round decision contests, and said it followed that they could be lifted only in decision matches, save in case of a knockout. The Jersey City fights will be twelve round no decision affairs. The fight will start at 4 p. m. daylight time.

DOWNEY-WILSON BOUT NOT TO BE CHEESE AFFAIR

Bryan in Condition to Fight Battle of His Life for Middleweight Championship

NEW YORK.—Bryan Downey, who will meet Johnny Wilson for the middleweight championship of the world in Tex Rickard's arena at Jersey City Monday, stepped through his paces Thursday for the edification of a few newspaper men and a crowd of rabid fight fans at Grupp's Harlem gym.

Bryan is in condition to fight the battle of his career, despite all the criticism leveled at him by various local scribes who have come to the conclusion that the Labor day scrap is to be a cheese affair.

Flaws Picked Out

After a careful survey of the contender—or champion, as Jimmy Dunn, his manager, would have us call him—we have no criticism to make of his condition, but there are a few things lacking that may make it rough going for the Columbus lad. We have a different idea. It does interfere.

Bryan seems to have another weakness and that is his left hand. He doesn't use it enough, and when he does, it seems to lack strength. This may be offset by his right mitt, which has some tremendous power behind it and once it hits the spot the referee must start to count. We'll say this lad from Ohio can sock with that right.

After watching this fellow, we can't count him out of the fight as some of the local scribes would have him. He is confident he will repeat the dose handed Wilson at Cleveland. He refused to indicate when it would happen, but it will happen unless Wilson holds his hands high and guards against that right cross which carries a mile's kick with it.

As If You Meant to Say

It is a good and safe rule to sojourn in every place, as if you meant to spend your life there, never omitting an opportunity of doing a kindness, or speaking a true word, or making a friend.—Ruskin.

CITIZENS ENTITLED TO STATE RECORDS IS REIS RULING

Can Demand Copy Unless Disclosure is Against Public Policy

MADISON, Wis.—Any citizen of the state has a right to demand and receive a copy of any departmental record or information provided that its disclosure would not be against public policy or reveal a privileged matter in the exercise of its duties. A. C. Reis, assistant attorney general, holds in an opinion to Edward Norrman, commissioner of markets, Friday.

The owner of a milk condensary who had reported the price paid for milk in accordance with the department order, had demanded to know what prices were paid by competing condensaries. It was held that in this case, that the commissioner could determine whether disclosure of the information would embarrass his department, and if so, he would not be compelled to comply with the request.

Common law rights in this state requires "that the party have a direct and tangible interest as distinct from a curious, speculative, malicious or political motive," in receiving information, the opinion says.

Statutory right, however, "abolishes the common law requirement of 'interest,' as a condition precedent and makes the right of obtaining a certified copy available to all persons, regardless of use."

This is tempered in the opinion to give the head of the department the right to keep secret information if "the disclosure would be against public policy or would reveal a privileged matter, or would embarrass the department in the exercise of its duties."

HALF MILLION TO BE SPENT ON STATE NORMAL SCHOOLS LA CROSSE TO GET $5,000

MADISON, Wis.—Close to half a million dollars is scheduled to be spent this biennium for the repair, construction work, and purchase of lands for the normal schools in the state. Figures compiled at the office of the board of regents show that Whitewater heads the list with $125,273 that may be spent with Superior, second, with a total of $67,913.

A deficit that is estimated between two and three million dollars between the appropriations made by the last legislature and the possible receipts of the state may limit the building operations that might otherwise be undertaken. Whether all this may be spent is up to Governor Blaine. A circular letter sent out by the governor in July informing state and departmental heads that all projects costing over $10,000 must be submitted for his approval would indicate that not all construction scheduled will be completed. In some cases the amount appropriated is insufficient under the present scale of building prices and the sum will be allowed to rest until prices come down or until further appropriations may be made by future legislatures.

The schedule of buildings and land that may be acquired during the two years follows:

Whitewater—$50,000 for a new east wing, $75,000 for heating plant, and $279 for sewer.

Superior—$250 to complete main building, $20,112 for a gym, $14,911 for land, and $3,460 for land improvements.

Port Clinton—$894 for completion of main building and $1,687 for land improvements.

La Crosse—$1,612 for remodeling, $284 for equipment and $3,000 for land improvements.

Milwaukee—$40,000 for land, and $1,290 for land improvements.

Oshkosh—$9,071 for land, and $1,800 for land improvements.

Waterville—$34,600 for a new heating plant, and $500 for land improvements.

River Falls—$3,280 for remodeling, $53,281 for heating plant, $3,500 for a sewer, $2,042 for land, and $1,800 for land improvements.

Stevens Point—$15,986 for remodeling the library, $25,000 for erection of a science building, $275 for finishing basement rooms, and $150 for land improvements.

Under the ruling of the governor no bids for erection of any building costing over $10,000 may be secured until the project has his approval. It is believed, however, that the east wing for the Whitewater normal and the gym for Superior will receive the early approval of the executive.

HAMBRECHT ASKS FOR SUPPORT OF NEW SCHOOL LAW

Changes in Compulsory Education Law Requires Part Time Attendance up to 18

LACK OF EDUCATION WILL PAUPERIZE NATION HE SAYS

Believe Employers are Behind the Opposition

MADISON, Wis.—Changes in the part time compulsory education law which goes into effect this year as a result of new legislation, should be regarded as an extension of education, opportunity and supported, rather than opposed, as in some cities, George P. Hambrecht, director of vocational education, said Friday commenting on reported action of Racine mothers in expressing disapproval of the statute.

The new law requires that children between the ages of 14 and 16 attend school half time, and raises the age for part time instruction from 17 to 18. Mr. Hambrecht said that the legislature had determined that this change should take place and that it is his duty to see that it is carried out as stipulated.

Change in high school curriculum will be necessary to provide for half day instruction and to meet the larger classes that will result from application of the law. Two years extension of time is allowed, should the city be unable to provide for the new pupils, but this extension is not needed in most cities, it was said.

"Education should be viewed as an opportunity and not a burden," Mr. Hambrecht said. "If the theory of education is right then it is an economic gain to the individual and the state, and if wrong it is economic loss and should be done away with."

"In that case children should be drawn out of school when 13 years of age and put into factories to work, rather than having them in schools learning that which is to be a detriment to them."

"The human animal seems to be the only one which feels that the young should bear the burden of support of the family. All other animals seek to relieve their young of responsibility of support, and to provide for their welfare."

"It would seem to me that if there is such a condition in a family as to demand that the child should bear the burden of its support, then the community should devise some means of giving aid. This has been the attitude of the legislature which determined that children of Wisconsin should have educational opportunities and should not be forced to slave in support of families."

"This nation would be pauperized if children were to be driven into work without advantage of an education. It is well established that the industrial conditions are better in states with strong part time compulsory education laws than those with lax provision against child labor, and it is known that the happiest communities are those whose citizens are best educated."

"The vocational schools of Wisconsin reached 50,000 pupils last year, preparing them for meeting the conditions of life on a better plane than would otherwise have been possible. The new law will extend these opportunities to more thousands, giving them the advantage of careful training and opening their eyes to the possibilities offered by this nation."

"I have never known working people to anticipate a problem and then unite to oppose it," Mr. Hambrecht declared, intimating that employers were behind the moves in Racine and Cudahy against operation of the new law.

Most cities are said to be preparing to take care of the large classes and to provide for half time instruction.

SUZANNE'S HAND

Here's the hand that wielded the racket that won the European tennis championship for Suzanne Langen but lost to Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory for the United States title. Notice that her only preparation for a match is a piece of tape at the base of the thumb to prevent blisters. Also notice how the outdoor game has "weatherbeaten" her face.

CITIZENS OF HULL PAY TRIBUTE TO DEAD OF THE ZR-2

HULL, England.—By The Associated Press.—The people of Hull, scene of the tragedy of the dirigible ZR-2, which was wrecked last week, participated Thursday in a mammoth Memorial service to the victims of the stricken airship.

Preceding the service at Trinity church there was a procession from Guildhall in which marched various officials. U. S. Consul Grout was chief Mourner for the American dead.

The procession also included representatives of civic bodies, units of the British army and navy, officers and men of the U. S. navy, and other dignitaries.

Notwithstanding a drizzling rain, thousands of spectators lined the route.

Wish it took as long to start a war as it did to end one!

3 SHOT IN BANDIT RAID ON FARMHOUSE NEAR MILWAUKEE

Woman is Killed and Daughter and Husband are Seriously Wounded

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Mrs. Sophie Hoyer, 43, was shot to death, her husband, Moritz, probably fatally wounded, and their daughter, Emily, 19, had her right arm arm shot off early Friday when they resisted four bandits who attempted to rob the Hoyer farm home, eighteen miles north of here.

According to Benjamin Koopman, farm-hand, the quartet called at the house and asked permission to use the telephone, saying their automobile had broken down. Suddenly one of the men turned, and ordered Mrs. Hoyer to throw up her hands.

The woman, who understood but little English, asked what they meant. She was shot down without another word. Her daughter was shot three times in the arm. Mr.

Hoyer, hearing the shots, was shot down as he came down the stairs to their assistance.

Koopman, who escaped, gave an alarm and a posse of 200 neighbors in fifty automobiles set out to scour the country-side in search of the men.

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—At the rate money is now drawn out of the state treasury, the pinch of the shortage, that is the difference between the appropriations made by the legislature and the provision made for funds to meet those appropriations, will be felt before the end of the fiscal year. In many cases the appropriations made for the biennium, the funds for the second year are available and can be drawn upon. The way the money is being paid out and all legitimately, and in accordance with the terms of the appropriation can be seen in the lowering of the highway commission's reserve. The commission has in its fund not only the state appropriations but the federal appropriations as well; and as the amount of work being done this season exceeds greatly that of any former year, the drafts upon the commission's fund are correspondingly heavy. The condition of the general fund of the state treasury at this time, two months after the beginning of the new fiscal year, differs so strikingly from that of July 1, as to give the governor and the legislature something to think about.

The monthly bulletin issued by the state board of control shows that of July 31 there were 745 prisoners confined in the state prison at Waupun, of which twenty were women. In the state hospitals for the insane, there are now 1470 persons, an increase of thirty-one in the year. In the county asylums there are 8928 insane, an increase in the year of 138.

Since the state board of health began supplying free to all physicians and midwives in the state silver nitrate, no complete case of blindness among infants has been reported. The solution is supplied in a form easily applicable to the new born infant's eyes. The board is now requiring all cities and villages to establish public comfort stations for each sex, and all places of public assemblage also are required to install them. The division of plumbing and domestic engineering are enforcing the law requiring these.

Never since the state of Wisconsin entered upon its road construction program has so large an amount of work been accomplished up to the last week in August, as has been done this year. Road work is proceeding at an unprecedented rate, due partly to the restricted program of the past few years, but chiefly to the perfected organization which Chief Engineer Hirst now has under him. This state now has what is recognized as the best organized corps of highway engineers, and the most effective organization of any state. The new information service of the highway commission is working very successfully. The nine division engineers meet at the office of the chief engineer every Monday night a statement of the condition of the roads and the construction work under them. This information is recorded on blue print maps and marked out regularly Wednesday afternoon. Thus on Thursday any garage or individual in the state having the service knows just where he can travel in the state without inconvenience.

With 280 officers and 5,585 men present and only 15 officers and 750 men absent the encampment of the Wisconsin National guard just closed was probably the most successful in the history of the guard. Not only did it prove successful in the matter of instruction, but the men left for their home stations in excellent spirits. A new feature that proved interesting to the men involved, as well as being a training that is the result of experience gathered in the war, was the training of specialists, such as signal work, sketching, map drawing, patrolling and other things in the intelligence department. Another innovation of the encampment was the appearance of the only national guard regiment of cavalry in the United States and the first mounted regiment to ever appear on the Wisconsin Military reservation. It was a far more marvellous camp than any of the past for there were nine machine gun companies, three howitzer companies with their one-pounders and Stokes mortars, a company of tanks, the light Browning automatics, the 75mm artillery and the rifles and pistols.

PROTEST WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER OF BALD EAGLES IN ALASKA

Territory Has Paid Bounties on 15,000 Birds Says Audubon Society Chief

NEW YORK—Protest against the wholesale slaughter in Alaska of the bald eagle, symbol of American independence was voiced here by T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies. He said that according to the last authentic information he had from Alaska, the territory had paid bounties on over 15,000 eagles.

"When I first discovered this law," said Mr. Pearson, "I at once began a campaign to try to get the bounty law repealed on the grounds that such a sweeping provision should not be put into operation without scientific investigation."

"It is now my contention that the killing of these birds should be stopped until the eagle can have its day in court. The late Governor Hughes, however, I am informed, expressed himself as feeling that the time had perhaps come when the bounty might be taken off the eagle, but so far as I am aware nothing has as yet been done.

"Some of the contentions are that the eagles kill 'song birds,' full grown deer, and are very destructive to fish. The Good Lord certainly made enough fish so that the emblem of our National Independence might have one occasionally."

Merely a Matter of Choice
"Bobby," said the teacher sternly,

"do you know that you have broken the Eighth Commandment by stealing James' apple?" "Well," explained Bobby, "I thought I might just as well break the Eighth as to break the Tenth and only cost it."
